Hockey Carnival Big Success

J. Zavado and W. Bobbitt Win Major Prizes. Large Crowds Attend. Club Shows Profit.

The clamor of the crowd has faded away from the successful carnival staged by the hockey club on Saturday and Monday last. Joe Zavado, of Coleman, won the G-E Refrigerator, valued at $275, in Saturday's draw. The handsome chestfield was won by Walter "Lucky" Bobbitt, on Monday evening and now adorns the front room of the Bobbitt home. The hockey season tickets were won by Mrs. H. E. Gate, J. O. C. McDonald, Mike Taron, S. B. Ryan and Nick Burtick, all of Coleman; T. Young, Calgary; Mrs. T. Mackin, Blainmore, and Ken Ringland, Lethbridge.

The major prize both recorded the best receipts of the carnival. It is interesting to note that although the miners bought approximately $500 worth of tickets, only one was successful in winning a prize, that being Mike Taron, who won a season ticket.

The mouse-mouse booth held the interest of the crowd both nights, the live mice being a great attraction. Many beautiful flowers were donated by flower growers throughout The Pass and Mrs. H. Gardner turned in a nice profit on their sale.

With the funds gained the club will be able to start on the right foot, being dependent on no one. Last year much difficulty was encountered from various parties who, having donated a dollar, demanded five dollars service in return, George Burchell, rink manager, being a very harassed official during the entire winter.

PETE LANGELE HERE

Pete Langele, considered by hockey writers to be the best hockey prospect in the Dominion, is visiting his brother, "Blondy" Landiak, this week. He is the property of Toronto Maple Leafs and at present is farmed to the Leaf's farm club, Syracuse Stars. Langele played on the same team as Ben Redisky some years ago, and states that Redisky is a very smart player, being better than himself and Kowcinak a few years ago.

Redisky left Winnipeg on Wednesday for Coleman.

CRYSTAL DRIVER WINS FIVE FIRSTS AT KASLO REGATTA

Crystal Driver, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. H. T. Driver, of Coleman, stole the show in the ladies' division at the Kaslo regatta, held at that town last week. She won the 50 yards free stroke event, the comedy boxing, swimming under water, diving for plates and the duck race, the latter a competition in which a live duck is taken out into the water and the contestant made to catch it.

Crystal is a former school student here, having attended Central school, and is well known among the younger people.

Stop Sign Changes

Changes have been made this week at a number of intersections where there were formerly stop signs to help regulate traffic. The sign beside Shields' service station in West Coleman has been shifted across the road beside Bobbitt's store, and a "Go Slow" sign has been placed in the old location.

The sign opposite the McDonald residence on Second street has been moved across the road and traffic going west has now to stop beside the Martland residence.

Complaints have been made by West Coleman residents that too little heed is paid the stop sign in their district. Many narrow escapes from accidents have been known, and they ask that more police surveillance be made to catch and punish careless drivers at this point.

WEDDINGS

FLEMING - KINNEAR

The wedding of a popular young Coleman couple took place at the United church manse on Friday evening at 6.30, when Annie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnear, became the bride of Miller Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Fleming. Rev. H. J. Bevan conducted the wedding ceremony. Attendants were Miss Agnes Kinnear, sister of the bride, and Mr. Neil Fleming, junior, brother of the groom.

The couple have a floor-length gown of peach net over taffeta, with a veil of matching color. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas and fern. The bridesmaid chose for her gown mid blue net over taffeta and wore a Juliet cap of matching color. For her bouquet she carried sweet peas and baby's breath.

The reception and wedding supper was held at the home of the bride's parents, gifts being present. The supper tables being beautifully decorated with flowers. After supper old-time singing and dancing was enjoyed by all.

The bridal couple will make their home in Coleman, the groom being an employee of International company. Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Tom Young and Mrs. Alex. Rankine and daughter Fife, all of Calgary.

HOLMBERG - QUICK

The marriage took place at St. Alban's church on Monday evening of Miss Inez Eleanor Quick, of Cranbrook, to Mr. Ewald Torquay Holmberg, also of Cranbrook. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, of Cranbrook. Rev. J. Hague conducted the marriage ceremony.

NELSON - GORDON

Two well-known Coleman young people were married at St. Alban's church on Tuesday evening, when Mary Edith Gordon became the bride of Walter Harold Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson.

The happy couple will reside in Coleman, where Mr. Nelson is employed at International mine.

Ladler, B.C., Optician: H. T. Halliwell, publisher of The Coleman Journal, was a Wednesday afternoon visitor at The Optician. Mr. Halliwell, a vice-president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, is holding in Vancouver before attending the annual convention of the association in the Hotel Vancouver. He was one of the leaders in the fight against the bill to control the press in Alberta and has received much credit for his work in that connection. He will return to the Delta on Saturday to spend some time in touring the district. Other members in the party were Mrs. Halliwell and Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, of Vancouver.

MAKING CANADA

A BETTER PLACE IN WHICH TO LIVE AND WORK
A Series of Letters from Distinguished Canadians on Vital Problems Affecting the Future Welfare of Canada
Specially Written for Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association

Dear Editor:—

There is an implied compliment and, at the same time, a definite challenge in your letter to me in which you ask for some suggestions as to how five hundred editors of rural weekly newspapers spread across Canada can make their contribution in the direction of making Canada a better place in which to live and work.

To really answer that question adequately involves something approaching Statesmanship. However I may fall short of that measure, there are perhaps some observations that I hope you may find helpful. I think that, if I could enjoy the responsibility of endeavoring to mould public opinion through the weekly newspapers, I would devote much thinking, reading and writing in the direction of better mutual understanding among Canadian citizens.

Having travelled this country from coast to coast, not once, but many times, and having had perhaps an exceptional opportunity to observe and appraise what the average Canadian citizen says and thinks, I would say that our great lack in Canada is breadth and tolerance. This is due in a large measure to the vastness of the country and its miserably inadequate population.

There are fine people with splendid qualities living in the Maritimes, but they talk everlasting of Upper Canada and Maritime rights. There are splendid Canadian citizens, French in language and Catholic in religion, but they talk everlasting of Canada for Canadians and seem bent on erecting some kind of Chinese wall around their province which will keep "foreigners" out for all time.

Here in Ontario, Canada's garden province, there are some splendid people, but we have a terrible tendency towards smugness and complacency. Our West I know them, because I lived in British Columbia fourteen, and in Alberta four years, and I could go on and describe and try to analyze the qualities of our people, but that is not what you are looking for. What I am trying to say here is this: we are all living in difficult times; the great majority of us feel socially insecure and because we are ruled by the fear complex, we think of and act toward our neighbors with suspicion, distrust and sometimes jealousy.

Many of our politicians, interested only in votes and the power that votes may secure for them, unscrupulously exploit class consciousness, town against country, rich against poor, Protestant against Catholic, Gentile against Jew.

We have the Native Sons of Canada and the Sons of England—all of them, in my humble opinion, mutually exclusive, destructive rather than constructive in their outlook, tending to divide us into opposing camps, exploiting our religious prejudices or our economic fears, poisoning our minds and embittering our daily relationships.

It seems to me, then, that the Weekly Newspaper Man is in an exceptionally good position to pour oil on those troubled waters—much more so I would think than his city colleagues, where the pressure of groups must be terrific and the pace hectic.

Local Items of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McBurney are visiting at Calgary.

Clareholm tennis players are expected to play at the local courts on Sunday.

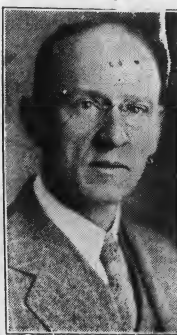

Duke Scodellaro, of Trail, was visiting, old friends over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Elick and daughter, of Port Chicago, Calif., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. Burtick for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Willetts and daughter, accompanied by the former's brother of Hillcrest left on Monday for a weeks vacation at Spokane.

You, it seems to me, have the unquestioned advantage of being able to "know" people, of having time to develop acquaintanceship, friendship and the broad tolerance which comes from being able to measure men for what they are rather than for the labels they wear.

Having come through some rather strenuous experiences personally in the past few years with which you are, to some extent at any rate, familiar, I may say that I have come to have a distrust of "movements," "programmes," "solutions," all blue-printed and charted—not because I have lost my passion for social reform, but because no programme for the betterment of the human race can rise higher than the quality of heart and mind of its promoters.

GEO. S. HOUGHAM

If, therefore, you are seeking a theme which can be developed through the powerful agency of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, I suggest that you consider: Neighbourliness, Helpfulness, plain, ordinary, decent Human Kindness, Patience with those whose views seem to be so diametrically opposed to ours, a painstaking effort to understand why they think what they think; and this, while not spectacular, not sensational, not arresting, would, it seems to me, be a worth while objective to which you could commit your Association in the coming year.

There is a stanza by Ella Wheeler Wilcox which, to some extent at any rate, expresses what I have in mind. It runs like this:

So many Gods,
So many Creeds,
So many ways
That wind and wind,
And yet the art of being kind
Is all this sad world needs.
Not much economic philosophy in all that; nothing very profound, nothing very scientific but, if we fall to develop understanding with those who are our close neighbors, who live across the street from us, who live in the next town or province, how can we develop that abstract idealism that speaks in glowing but vague terms of "International Good Will"?

Yours sincerely,
GEO. S. HOUGHAM,
Dominion Secretary, The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, Toronto.

IN POLICE COURT

Three men charged with being drunk in a public place came before Police Magistrate Antroubus on Monday and Tuesday and were fined $20 and costs. Constable Antle prosecuted.

Four men, charged with disturbing the peace on Saturday evening, came before Police Magistrate Gresham on Wednesday evening and were fined, Constable Antle prosecuting.

An assault case between Herman Hirsch, plaintiff, and Ernest Moderch, of Lethbridge, defendant, was brought into court on Tuesday. Hirsch withdrew the case before it was heard, Meredith agreeing to pay the costs of repairs to Hirsch's glasses. Costs of the court were levied on both men.

New Grocery Store To Open Here

Messrs. Bill Gate and Herb Sherratt will open their new grocery store in the K. of P. Hall on August 20. The hall has been renovated to accommodate what is expected to be a thriving business. Large plate glass windows have been placed in the front of the building facing Second street, while inside the hall shelves and tables have been placed in neat array to show off the goods to best advantage.

Mr. Sherratt for many years was delivery man for Ledieu's store and is now venturing in business life for himself. Bill Gate, proprietor of the Red and White store on Fifth street, is branching out in the grocery business since he will continue to operate his present store, placing his daughters in charge.

One Provincial Tennis Title Comes to Coleman

Jenkins and Partner Win Secondary Doubles. Balloch Fails to Win An Event.

George Jenkins was the only player to bring home an Alberta tennis title to Coleman. Jenkins, teamed with Dick Hinks, of Calgary, won the men's secondary doubles title. Balloch, teamed with Harry Kink, of Calgary, lost out in the finals of the men's doubles in four sets.

The visitors' event, a competition dominated by Coleman during the past three years, was lost to the local aggregation this year. Balloch could not enter this competition, being a seeded player in the open singles.

HORSEHOE PITCHERS ORGANIZE

A month ago a few male residents of Fourth street made a horsehoe pitch for a little quiet recreation and exercise. Today three pitches are in play, in addition to a small one for the youngsters who come to see their elders play. Horsehoe enthusiasts from all over town can be seen at the grounds.

So great is the interest in the game that the players have formed an organization with Eddie Woods and Sid Sturk acting as officials. Membership fee is 35 cents, forty-one members having paid up last week end and more joining every day.

At the present time they play with old horsehoes, but an order has been placed for three pairs of official horsehoes as well as a book of rules.

It is intended within the next week or two to hold a tournament to determine the champions in singles and doubles. They have in mind to challenge horsehoe pitchers from Cardston and the tournament will be necessary in order to pick the team.

Dr. Rose States All Necessary Precautions Taken—No Cause For Alarm

Infantile paralysis claimed its first Coleman victim on Sunday afternoon, when Elsie Louise Orlando, two years and three months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Orlando, passed away. The child's sickness had been diagnosed as infantile paralysis last week and precautions taken to prevent the spread of the disease. Her condition was favorable until a few hours before her death, when she took a turn for the worse and died about one o'clock Sunday afternoon. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery.

Dr. Rose states that all necessary precautions to prevent the spread of the disease have been taken, and at the present time there is no cause for alarm.

Excavation Started For New Surgery

Excavation for the construction of a modern surgery was started by Contractor D'Apollonia last week. The building will face the hospital, and will consist of three consulting rooms, sitting room, dispensary, board room and janitor's room. Should conditions warrant, sufficient accommodation will be available in the second story for additional rooms. A hot-air furnace will be installed in the basement.

The building is expected to be ready for the middle of September.

LETHBRIDGE AWARDED 1939 PROV. NET TOURNAMENT

Determination and perseverance finally won out last week after many years, when southern Alberta tennis representatives were successful in having Lethbridge awarded the 1939 provincial tournament. In past years the tournament has been awarded Edmonton and Calgary, alternately. Edmonton, striving to develop any champions, have not supported the tournament during the past two years, so that Lethbridge had its opportunity of making a successful bid for the tournament.

The "Wars" In The Orient

The very recent "open" appearance of Russia as a foe to Japan in the oriental war theatre on the borders of Manchukuo, Japanese puppet state, will set afoot a great deal of speculation as to where the latest developments in the far east will eventually lead, and whether or not other European powers will later become involved.

If so, it is quite conceivable that the time will come, sooner or later, when Europe will again become the battleground between the major nations of the world, for it is quite on the cards that Russian intervention in the war between China and Japan constitutes but another step towards the maelstrom of another world wide imbroglio.

It is true that no state of war has yet been declared between Russia and Japan but borderline clashes are becoming more frequent and incidents more intense and, in fact, under the rules of modern warfare—or lack of them—it is quite possible for Russia and Japan to engage in a large scale conflict without any formal declaration of hostilities on either side.

Russia Has Memories

Russia, it might well be pointed out, has more than one reason for taking advantage of a weakened Japan if the Soviet, with one of the strongest armies in the world at her command, believes that her former opponent of 1905 is in a state of vulnerability. Russia has the memory of her defeat at the hands of the Nipponese in 1905 as an incentive, and as a further goad the more recent announcement (1935) of the pact between Germany, Italy and Japan, admittedly aimed against Communism and which Russia undoubtedly interpreted as a direct threat against herself.

No matter how strict may be the censorship of the war news from the scene of the Sino-Japanese conflict and no matter how conflicting and confusing may be the reports of the progress of the strife issued by both of the combatant armies, there can be little doubt that the Japs are now playing a losing game and that the Chinese have everything in their favor in the type of warfare in which they are now indulging—a war of attrition.

As the Japanese lines of communication lengthen out, the guerrilla tactics being adopted by the Chinese are likely to become more and more effective as time progresses. The Chinese themselves are fully alive to this and that, coupled with their fatalistic outlook, has much improved their morale since the war started. The attack on their country and the ruthless manner in which it is being prosecuted has performed wonders in uniting divided forces and this fact, fortified by the proverbial patience of the Chinese, gives them an advantage which becomes more apparent as the conflict becomes more protracted.

Japan's Economic Tension

Moreover, there are indications that the Japanese are approaching the day when their financial and credit sources will be stretched to the breaking point and the time appears to be not far distant when it will be impossible for them to continue a war of aggression in a foreign country because of inability to pay for needed materials and the impossibility of maintaining armies which are gradually stretching out further and further from supply bases.

Recent news items supply chapter and verse for the assumption that the financial straits of the Japanese are becoming ever steeper. A country that finds it necessary to resort to rat skins for leather and to instruct its manufacturers to reduce the length of matches by .029 of an inch to yield sufficient revenue to keep the army in the field for one hour and five minutes by the savings of a whole year, must be in desperate economic plight.

If to these impediments are to be added attacks by Russia on another flank on more frequent and more intensive scale, it would appear that the ultimate outlook for Japanese arms on the Asiatic mainland is gloomy indeed.

Merely An Hypothesis

Whether or not Italy or Germany may deem it expedient or advantageous, or both, to come to the aid of a distressed Japan in the event of Russian aggression becoming more pronounced, is a question difficult to answer, but it would not be difficult for either one of these dictators, both of them, to find a pretext for doing so, basing their action on the Italo-Germanic-Japanese agreement of 1935.

Numerically, at least, Russia has one of the largest, if not the largest, armies in the world to-day and in some respects, one of the best equipped. Possibly that fact, coupled with a show of real strength on Russia's western borders, might be a deterrent for any ambitions which Hitler or Mussolini might have in that quarter.

It is a reasonable assumption, however, if some of the European nations outside of Russia should become embroiled in the struggle in the Orient it would not be long before hostilities would be transferred to European soil and in such an event it is highly probable how long it would be before other European powers would be drawn into the vortex.

A Superfluous Subject

A school teacher who asked a girl to buy a grammar received the following note from the child's mother: "I do not desire that my Matty engage in grammar and I prefer her to engage in more useful studies and can learn her to write and speak properly myself. I want to know two grammars and can't say as they did me no good. I prefer Matty to engage in geography and drawing and good vocal music on the piano."

All the average man wants to-day is a fairly easy job, a new automobile, a beautiful wife—and a set of creditors who will listen to reason.

Close Bad Time

As residents moped browns under a hot July sun, radiators in many homes and offices in Scranton, Pennsylvania, suddenly began sizzling with steam heat. Wilted citizens by the score seized telephones to demand an explanation. "Just testing," explained the superintendent of the central heating plant.

Creamery Butter Production

Central Saskatchewan was the heaviest producer of creamery butter during the first quarter of the year, with 715,303 pounds to its credit, according to a report of the dairy branch, Saskatchewan department of agriculture. The southern division produced 580,398 pounds and the northern, 539,472.

White Men Are Safe

Cannibals In Dutch New Guinea Prefer To Eat Their Relatives

A white man's life among Dutch New Guinea cannibals is quite monotonous because the cannibals prefer to eat their relatives, S. Dillion Ripley, 24, of the Academy of Natural Sciences, said.

Ripley returned from a stay among the cannibals, said nothing rather higher gastronomically than a relative who oversteps the bounds of propriety.

"The system," he said, "results in a minimum of bores and loose thieves in the tribe."

It resulted in part from the Dutch government's attitude toward the consumption of white man and Chinese, he said.

"For instance," he continued, "let's suppose a tribesman steals from a fellow-tribesman his wife or some other personal possession. The victim lodges a complaint with the chief and the chief calls a council of assistant chiefs and priests. If they decide the most advantage is acute enough to warrant drastic punishment, the offender is invited to a big blow-out."

"He doesn't know he is about to be barbecued. He dances with the rest of them and the only indication of the unusual honor to be bestowed on him is a garland of flowers about his neck."

"When the dancing ends, the unfortunate is killed with specially selected poles and divided. The guests then roast him to individual taste."

Clever Narcotics Gang

Prayer Books Hollowed Out To Hold Smuggled Drugs

Holy books alleged to have been used in the drug traffic led to the arrest in Paris of a self-designated "grand rabbi" from Brooklyn and pointed the way to what police hope will prove the round-up of a clever New York narcotics gang.

Held in Sante prison is Isaac Lefter, who, authorities confirmed in New York, once presided over a synagogue in Brooklyn, and Hermann Goldfinger, an alleged accomplice.

Heroin worth $20,000 was seized. For months, according to agents of the Surete Generale, Lefter had been mailing volumes of the Talmud and Hebrew prayer books, their bindings hollowed out to hold dope, to the United States.

Forty such books were found in a taxicab used by Lefter at the time of his arrest. Acting on information from New York, French police have been watching Lefter for some time, and the books he posted were all trailed to their addresses in America.

He told the book-binders who made the special bindings that they were intended to hold holy and from Jerusalem. He and Goldfinger, a Hungarian, were nabbed just after registering another set of books at the post office.

Old Fort Henry

Interesting Ceremony Dedicating Bastille To Cause Of Peace

Old Fort Henry, which for 100 years has guarded Kingston's harbor, has been rebuilt and recently was dedicated by Prime Minister Mackenzie King to the cause of peace.

Built in 1832-3, it was planned to defend this country against attacks from United States. Now it has become an instrument, not of war, but to increase the friendship of the two nations.

For over a generation this once mighty fortress had been neglected and fell into ruin. Through the co-operation of the Dominion and the Ontario government, its walls have been renewed and the old guns installed on their original foundations.

In the historic parade, with a multitude of people occupying the entire grounds and every vantage point of the fort, Canada's prime minister traced the growth of Canada, torn first by wars with foreign countries, then torn by political and racial differences within itself, and how these had all been reconciled.

He paid tribute to the men who have been able to "reconcile their differences and make a great Canadian people united from one end of Canada to the other."

A Means Of Defence

Britain Plans Gigantic Smoke Screen To Hide Thames Estuary

Great Britain's Air Raid Precautions Department is going to try blotting out the mouth of the Thames River, essential landmark on the air route to London from the continent, by a gigantic smoke-screen as a means of defence against air raids expected to feature the next war, says Science Service.

Successful use of smoke-screens at sea to blot out whole fleets and the large amount of smoke sky-writing planes are able to generate indicate the feasibility of the plan, the United Services Review, England's lead national defence technical journal believes.

"If the Thames estuary could be effectively blotted out it would amount to the removal of the main sign-post on the way to London for invaders, and there seems no reason why the smoke-screen should be for use at sea only," the journal declares. London is situated a short distance up the Thames river.

"Within measure the smoke would be controllable and could be so diffused as to provide no risk for our own patrolling aircraft when they come in to land."

Need Better Wheat

Says Canadian Wheat Has Deteriorated In Quality

While wheat producers of other countries have steadily improved the quality of their strains, Canadian wheat has deteriorated in quality to what it was years ago, A. T. Sinclair of Winnipeg, assistant director of Canada's crop testing plan, warned Alberta farmers.

Seven years' study under the plan has shown that 38 per cent of the wheat grown in western Canada was from mixed strains. Four or five per cent of the farmers didn't know what variety of wheat they were growing, he said.

The varieties in a mixture ripen at different times and raise the problem of when to harvest for best results," he said. "With a mixture the farmer gets a lower yield and grade and less money for his crop."

The testing plan, he said, was sponsored by eight western grain companies, assisted by the federal and provincial departments of agriculture, the three prairie universities and schools of agriculture.

AFTER FREE PUBLICITY

Considerable amusement was caused at a recent gathering of weekly newspaper men when A. D. McKittick, editor of the Orangeville Banner, presented a tabulated report on requests for free publicity received in a period of ten days. The combined space ran to over 500 inches, which, if printed at regular rates would amount to $150 or more, and would take up 25 columns or four extra pages. The same story had been told by every weekly newspaper in Ontario.

Space in a newspaper means exactly to the publisher what a can of salmon or peaches or any other commodity does to a grocer. If he cannot sell them he is out of luck, and if there is no market for newspaper space the publisher is similarly out of luck. Yet all sorts of people and organizations who would not dream of walking into a store and helping themselves have no hesitation in panhandling when it comes to newspaper space. —Paris Star.

Sir Charles Tegart Has Had Many Thrills During His Career

A thrilling book has been written on the career of Sir Charles Tegart, who has returned to London after a six months' visit to Palestine, during which he has advised the Government on the suppression of terrorism. When he was Chief of the Calcutta Police, he seemed to bear a charmed life. In 1923 a revolutionary killed another Englishman in mistake for him; in 1928 he led his forces against a mob of armed students, and in 1930 bombs were thrown at his car, and again he escaped unharmed.

One of his most successful devices was to arm the fire brigade as a counter-measure against motorcar bandits. The public was warned to use the fire alarm immediately a robbery took place, and within a few weeks the bandits had given up the game.

Although he is in the late fifties, and has spent 30 years in India, Sir Charles seems to be still in the pink of condition.—News of the World.

Mock Air Raid Proves Eastern England Fairly Safe From Attack

London. — The Royal Air Force ended the most extensive air defence exercises in British history, carrying out scheduled manoeuvres despite electrical storms, heavy rainfall and fog, with a loss of six lives.

Full results of the exercises will not be known for some time, since observers must assemble considerable data and examine numerous army photographs taken during the operations. But authorities said the exercises demonstrated London and all eastern England are on the whole safe from serious air attacks.

Six members of the Royal Air Force lost their lives in two crashes. Five were killed when a bombing plane struck a tree and caught fire. A sixth life was lost in another accident, but flyers bailed out successfully from two other planes that were wrecked.

Nine hundred first line warplanes, 15,000 members of the R.A.F., 17,000 territorials and 4,000 observers participated in the vast manoeuvres.

Fog and rain hampered the exercises in many areas and all bombers were grounded before the general cessation. Fighting planes had remained aloft despite the adverse weather to test searchlight units.

An air ministry communique said invading "Eastland" bombers, flying in small attack formation, made London their chief objective and inflicted serious theoretical damage to the air ministry and the Knightsbridge district of the capital.

Defensive "Westland" fighters were said to have intercepted the "attacking" squadrons successfully at many points.

"In real war," the communique said, "few of the 'raiders' would have escaped without loss."

Authorities said the exercises demonstrated conclusively that London and the metropolitan area are, on the whole, safe from serious air attacks.

The largest "raid" was staged by 22 bombers near Enfield in Middlesex. Most of these were "destroyed" by the defending planes. A second air raid on London by 12 Eastland planes was nipped in the bud, the planes were encircled and driven off by the "hurricane" pursuit planes.

Statement Given Of German Policy On The Sudeten Question

Berlin.—The Sudeten question involving Czechoslovakia's 3,500,000 Germanic inhabitants is Nazi Germany's touchstone of future foreign policy.

If the Czechoslovakian government satisfies German demands for self-government of the Sudeten territory, Nazi Germany will content herself with an economic imperialism that will make her undisputed master of central and southeastern Europe.

If current negotiations between the Sudeten leader, Konrad Henlein, and Premier Milan Hodza of Czechoslovakia fail, Chancellor Hitler is prepared to go the way of force, if necessary, to unite all Germans along the fringes of the reich.

A man high in Nazi party councils made these predictions.

"Supposing the Sudeten problem is not settled to Hitler's satisfaction," he was asked. "Is Germany ready even to risk a European war to gain his ends?"

"Absolutely," was the firm reply. "Even this extreme possibility has been taken into account. But we hope and trust such a contingency will never arise. We count on the realistic sense of Great Britain and France."

"Nor would we ever start a war on behalf of the Sudeten. But if there should be a spontaneous uprising in that region (the part of Czechoslovakia fringing Germany's southeastern frontier) and an appeal for aid were sent to us, we could not but rally to the support of our 3,500,000 brethren."

"Our original idea was that all Germans, no matter under whose sovereignty, now in the state bordering Germany, must in due time be re-united with the German empire."

Terrorism In Palestine

Official Tabulation Shows 210 Lives Lost During July

Jerusalem.—Terrorism in Palestine took 210 lives during July, an official tabulation showed. Of the dead, 148 were Arabs, 60 were Jews and two were British soldiers.

A British soldier, wounded in the Nablus region during an engagement with a band of marauders, died. The number of British slain in this skirmish was officially announced at seven.

A wave of kidnapping is sweeping the central portion of the country. The kidnappers, who make it plain that failure to pay ransom will probably have fatal consequences, have collected some $35,000 in the last few days.

Crop Situation

Potential Damage From Rust Has Been Lessened

Ottawa.—Grain crops in western Canada are maturing "too rapidly for optimum filling," but the potential damage from rust has been lessened, says a telegraphic crop report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

Drouth remains unbroken in British Columbia and yields of all crops will be light, the report said.

Harvesting is under way on the prairies and will be general in the next 10 days to two weeks.

Eastern Canada has received abundant rainfall in the past two weeks, and warm, dry weather had been experienced from the head of the lakes westward.

Arms Exports

Shipments For July Were Principally To China

Ottawa.—The department of national revenue issued 29 permits during July for the exportation of arms, ammunition, implements or munitions of war, it was announced. Total value of the permits was $183,145.

Exported principally to China, aircraft and aircraft parts were valued at $81,864. High explosives and small arms ammunition valued at $43,227 were exported to the United Kingdom, Australia and Newfoundland.

New Price Set For Wheat Explained By Melvor

Winnipeg.—George H. Melvor, chief commissioner of the Canadian wheat board, issued a statement explaining that the wheat price of 80 cents a bushel, set by the Dominion government for No. 1 northern delivered at Fort William, also applied to shipments to the Pacific coast.

The statement said "each producer shall receive for the same grade of wheat the same price on the Fort William basis." It continued: "The board agreed that the Fort William price of 80 cents a bushel for No. 1 northern wheat would apply to Pacific coast shipments. That is, the Fort William price is the basis of computation for shipments east and west, but the freight rate to be deducted is the rate to Fort William or the rate to the Pacific coast, whichever is the lower."

Producers who are desirous of delivering wheat to the board should, for the time being, take a storage ticket from the elevator to which the grain is delivered, and, if required, arrange to obtain a cash advance from the elevator company on the grain so delivered and stored for future delivery to the board.

"The board agreed that farmers shipping wheat in carlots to Fort William or Pacific coast terminals must declare within a period of five days from the date of unloading if they desire to sell such wheat to the board. This will be effective until the board officially announces that it is in a position to take delivery of farmers' wheat, after which producers must declare at time of delivery whether or not such wheat is intended for delivery to the board."

License Will Be Cancelled

After September Jewish Doctors Cannot Practise In Germany

Berlin.—All Jewish physicians in Germany are to be deprived of "approbations"—licenses to practise—by an order published in the official Reichs-Gesetzblatt.

The order briefly states that from Sept. 30 all such licenses will become void. It is further stated that the minister of the interior may grant exceptions allowing Jews to practise "until further notice."

The order adds that in exceptional cases maintenance grants may be allowed Jewish physicians thus ousted from the profession provided they served at the front in the Great War.

The new order is described as being based on the Nuremberg racial laws, according to which Jews are only German "subjects," and do not have the status of a citizen.

The number of Jews this new drastic decree affects is estimated at between 6,000 and 7,000.

U.S. Proposals Rejected

Mexico Refuses To Arbitrate Expropriation Measures

Mexico City.—Mexico rejected the United States' proposals of July 21 to submit to arbitration the question of Mexico's failure to indemnify United States citizens whose farm lands she has expropriated since Aug. 30, 1927. Instead, Mexico proposed two-party discussion of the issue, asserting arbitration to be "unnecessary" and "unlawful."

A note handed by Cordell Hull, United States secretary of state, to the Mexican ambassador in Washington, Francisco Castillo Nájera, July 21, admitted Mexico's right to expropriate, but insisted upon prompt payment. Hull declared international law provided for this.

Fire In Doukhobor Areas

Several Buildings Are Burned In Nelson District

Nelson, B.C.—Two buildings in adjacent Doukhobor areas were in ruins, burned within 24 hours of each other by fires believed by British Columbia provincial police to be incendiary origin.

The Doukhobor church at Thrums, 20 miles southwest of here, was burned with a loss estimated at $600. The Doukhobor school at Pass Creek, 30 miles west of Nelson, was destroyed. Though an old building it would cost about $3,000 to replace.

Although the church was in the centre of a group of Doukhobor houses, the fire was not reported for some time, Sergeant S. G. Barber, of the provincial police, stated. Similarly, he said, the school fire was not reported by Doukhobors but by the forestry lookout in that area.

The Doukhobors are a religious sect of Russian descent among whom there have been intermittent outbreaks of burnings, bombings and disorders over a long period of years.

Revised Trade Agreement

Signed For One Year Between France And Germany

Berlin.—A Franco-German commercial agreement has been concluded here revising and extending for one year the trade accord of July 10, 1937, and providing for inclusion of the province of Austria within the economic and financial scope of the pact.

Negotiations also provided for assumption of the payment by Germany of the guaranteed Austrian loans of 1933 and 1934 and also included financial adjustments such as revision of interest rates on the French subscriptions to the Dawes and Young plans reparations loans.

New Gold Discovery In Mackenzie District Considered Important

Secrets Act Charge

Man Is Accused Of Securing Plans For A New Shaft

London.—Robinson Walker, clothing merchant, was arraigned in police court on charges of violating the official secrets act. He is accused of securing plans for a new shaft cap for a foreign power which, according to Crown Counsel Vincent Evans, he named as Soviet Russia.

After a brief hearing Walker was remanded until Aug. 12. The prosecutor said plans for the shaft cap were obtained from an official of Vickers-Armstrong, Limited, after the latter had informed police and was instructed to pretend Walker's proposition was acceptable.

According to Evans, Walker went to carry out the negotiations with Walker, but the prosecutor continued. When the two men met again Walker, who previously had allegedly said he was doing secret service work for three foreign countries, asserted photographing the plan would not be necessary.

Walker said he would merely like to let the Soviet commercial delegation in London have a look at the material, the Crown counsel declared.

Ottawa.—Prospecting and mining operations in the area north of the Great Slave lake which have doubled the white population of the Mackenzie district, have produced another important gold discovery.

It is in the Franciscan river and Mystery lake area about 12 miles north of Hearn channel, which separates Blanchet island from the north shore of the lake. Reports reaching the department of mines and resources indicate the new find is one of the most important yet made in that district.

Prospectors are now flocking into the immediate area and hundreds of claims are being staked. The find is in the rocky, lake-strewn country typical of that part of the Northwest Territories. It is reached by air or by canoe and portage up the Franciscan river from Great Slave lake.

Discovery of gold at Yellowknife bay, further west along the north shore of Great Slave lake in 1935 first directed serious attention to the country around the lake. Further discoveries were made in 1936, one of them at Moberly lake, 35 miles north of Yellowknife bay, and another in the vicinity of Snare river.

The discovery at Gordon lake, 50 miles northwest of Yellowknife bay, was also made in 1936 and last May another find was reported on the Beaulieu river, 28 miles west of Gordon lake.

Exploration and development work followed the discoveries in the different fields and so much interest was shown the department of mines and resources opened a sub-surface recorder's office at Yellowknife bay for the convenience of the public.

A thriving village has sprung up on the bay and on the "Com" property of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company a modern mining plant with 100-ton mill is operating.

Minimum Price For New Wheat Crop Is Fixed At Eighty Cents

Ottawa.—Western farmers are assured of a price for their 1938 wheat on the basis of 80 cents a bushel for No. 1 northern wheat, delivered at Fort William. That is the fixed minimum price the Canadian wheat board is authorized to pay for deliveries from the crop now ripening.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced the price after a cabinet meeting, said it had been recommended by the wheat board and approved by the government.

At the same time he indicated there would be no change in the marketing policy pursued by the government and the wheat board. Canadian wheat would be offered for sale continuously at world prices and there would be no attempt to hoard or seek a monopoly.

He read a brief statement prepared by Trade Minister Dule, chairman of the cabinet, which said: "The milling and grain trades of the world are advised that notwithstanding the internal initial price of 80 cents a bushel the Canadian wheat board will continue its work of encouraging the use of Canadian wheat which will at all times be competitive on the world's markets."

The price fixed is lower than the 87½ cents which has been fixed during the three previous years the wheat board has been in existence.

It was higher than the prevailing price for the October future, which stood at 76½ cents on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, Thursday, Aug. 4. The October future price is the market's estimate of what wheat will bring when the new crop is harvested and threshed.

Cash wheat closed Thursday at 86½ cents. The new crop has not yet begun to come on the market, however, and the lower price for the October future indicated the reduction in price the speculators and dealers expect will come between now and October when the new crop, estimated as high as 300,000,000 bushels, begins moving into elevators.

Journeying Through the Rockies

IN these days of air-conditioned coaches on the railroads, greater comfort and relaxation is experienced than in earlier years. The Canadian Pacific route, through the famous Canadian Rockies is one of unparalleled grandeur, absorbing the interest of the traveller from Calgary to Vancouver. Open observation cars enable passengers to enjoy an unobstructed view of the peaks and the valleys, a splendid tonic for frayed nerves.

NO NEED to worry about anything; dining cars and sleeping coaches providing for your wants and comfort, the passenger seeking a real holiday and freedom from tasks of any kind can certainly enjoy the trip to the full in travelling over the railroad around which so much romance centres.

NO MATTER how often you may travel through the Rockies, there is always something fascinating about the railroad. Your thoughts travel back to the construction days, when surveys had to be made through the mighty mountain barriers separating the prairie provinces from the coast province of British Columbia. Such places as the Kicking Horse Pass, Eagle Pass, Rogers Pass, are reminiscent with amusing stories of why they were so named, and which are fully explained in a book written some years ago, entitled "The Romance of the Canadian Pacific Railway." One of the outstanding engineering feats of later years was the boring of the five-mile-long Connaught tunnel, costing about $10,000,000, which reduced the gradient and overcame many difficulties of winter operation. The highest point on the route is Stephen, 5337 feet above sea level, so named after Lord Mount Stephen, one of the first directors and first president of the road, and to whose indomitable will much of the credit is due in securing finances to carry on construction when grave doubt was expressed by the government of the day that the railroad would ever pay for the axle grease for the cars.

ANOTHER POINT of interest of romantic construction days is Craigellachie, where construction from east and west met, and where Sir Donald Smith, later Lord Strathcona, laid the last spike which completed the laying of steel from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It is surrounded by towering peaks, though the line at this point has dropped from over 5,000 feet, at Stephen to 1225 feet above sea level.

TRAVELLING westward from Sicamous, the railroad follows a scenic route for miles around a fine body of water, named Shuswap Lake, and on into Kamloops. From here the road proceeds through the Thompson Canyon, and for about a hundred miles it is interesting to see from the train the Canadian National railroad on the opposite side of the canyon, which parallels the Canadian Pacific into Vancouver. It brings home the thought that here is an example of enthusiastic optimism over-riding cool business logic in a second transcontinental railroad being built, when there was not sufficient population or traffic to warrant such an enormous expenditure, and which is costing the Canadian people millions of dollars annually in operation and maintenance.

AND SO, while these thoughts pass through the traveller's mind, he again becomes absorbed in the scenery as the train passes through the Fraser canyon. The famous Cariboo Highway running alongside the railroad, with the Fraser River below, holds the interest of passengers. This original highway was constructed by the Royal Engineers, over eighty years ago, to connect the interior with the city of Vancouver. To-day it is surfaced as far as Kamloops, and eventually the remaining gap between Revelstoke and Golden will be made available for auto traffic and the Big Bend highway will provide an all Canadian route from the prairie provinces to the Pacific coast.

DARKNESS falls after the train passes through Petain, where the Kettle Valley railroad joins the main line, and as we journey onward in the darkness, enjoying the solitude of the now deserted open observation car, twinkling lights on the Fraser River indicate hundreds of fishing boats with their nets gathering the harvest of fish, the Fraser being famous for its salmon. It brings to an end a perfect day, a scenic journey which during the whole of the daylight hours has no equal, especially when viewed from a train which provides every facility for comfort and relaxation.—H.T.H.

Impressions of the City

Friendly Spirit and Neighborliness of Small Towns is Marked Contrast to Galvanized City Life

"Do I like the city?"

For a holiday, I would reply, "Yes!" As a place in which to work, I would say, "No!"

One accustomed to life in the country towns, who has experienced the struggles of early life in a big city, and later the neighborliness and friendly spirit of the small towns, cannot help making comparisons.

The competitive spirit of all lines of business in the cities, and necessity of getting everything done on time, might well be followed by people in the smaller centres, but it tends to make life more of a mere mechanical process, much different to the easy-going ways of the smaller centres, where people call each other by their first names, and privileges are given in business dealings which would not be expected or asked for in the city.

So many people flock to the cities, and young people especially believe it to be the mecca for golden opportunities. Undoubtedly opportunities exist in greater number, but also there are greater numbers competing against one another, which has a tendency to lower the wage standard which avaricious employers and the highly competitive system take advantage of.

Ambitious young people might well consider the fact that opportunities exist in the smaller centres. It is natural that they

Steam Coal Maintains Its Supremacy

FOR LONG DISTANCE HAULAGE on Canadian and American railroads. The mighty power of steam and the flexibility of steam driven locomotives which are fired by coal have proved the most advantageous and the most economical in comparison with electric power and fuel oil for locomotive purposes on long distance railroads.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILROAD purchases thousands of tons annually from local mines. High grade steam coal is essential for dependable operation on mighty locomotives travelling the steep mountain grades and long rolling stretches of prairies.

REMEMBER, the coal industry is the sole source of all employment and business development in the towns of this district.

SMALL ORDERS!

YES SIR!

We Appreciate Them

The other day we asked a man for his printing, and he told us:

"Oh, our printing does not amount to much. All we have is a few little orders, and none of them ever run into anything that looks like money."

Those little orders are the kind that make our business.

Most of our business is in printing letterheads, envelopes, circulars, posters, office forms and other small orders.

We appreciate a small order just as much as we do a big one.

So---if you have any small orders for printing, we want you to know that we are glad to get them. We appreciate them just as much---and take just as good care of them---as if they actually amounted to hundreds of dollars.

Impressions of the City

should acquire experience of life in the cities, in order to quicken their spirit and give them a more general knowledge of the ways of the world than is acquired in the old home town. But for a more complete life lived in a more natural and congenial way than in the hurly-burly rush of the city, the small towns are preferable to the crowded cities.

In this growing city of Vancouver, one meets scores of old acquaintances from the prairies. Of the many who came here ten, fifteen or twenty years ago, there are few who have improved their station in life. As they grow older they have to make way for younger people who are clamoring for advancement, and provision against old age is a source of constant worry, for the neighborly spirit of the small town is absent in the city, where you know very little of your neighbors.

In past years many came here with incomes from investments in the prairie provinces. The years of poor crops and general depression so reduced their incomes in the shape of interest that it made the going very difficult, and some wish they were back in the smaller centres whence they came. It is the exception to the general rule to find those who have gone up the ladder to a more secure footing. Those who may have considered themselves big toads in small puddles in the rural communities become small fry in the maelstrom of city life. The law of the survival of the fittest will always prevail.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Great Britain has been divided into 100 parts by the home office so that in event of hostilities any one of the threatened districts may be warned of air raid danger.

Police at Orillia, Ont., established some kind of a record while solving a jewelry store robbery. The jeweler reported that 42 watches had been stolen, but the police recovered 43.

A new agreement cancelling post-war limitations on Bulgaria's army was seen in diplomatic circles as an important step toward Bulgarian membership in the Balkan entente.

An official statement issued at Buckingham Palace said "no plans whatever" had been made for a trip to Canada by the King. There have been reports that a journey was contemplated by His Majesty.

A convicted spy, Kurt Law, hanged himself in his cell at Marseille, France, rather than serve a 10-year prison term to which a war council had sentenced him several hours earlier.

The International Institute of Agriculture, Rome, estimated the 1938 European wheat crop, exclusive of Soviet Russia, at 43,500,000 metric tons. This is equivalent to $1,665,300,000 bushels.

Profit On Illicit Drugs

Shown By Department Of National Revenue Official Records

Indication of the fortunes which have been made in the illicit drug traffic in Canada is given in official records of the department of national revenue on the importation of cocaine, morphine and crude opium.

Back in 1919, more than $850,000 of these narcotics were brought in through the customs supposed to be for legal and medicinal purposes. The fact that easily $850,000 worth found their way into the illicit trade is shown by customs figures that all that was required and allowed entry in the last 12 months amounted to a total value of $42,210 and $34,552 during the previous year.

Of these importations, 75 per cent. are administered as straight narcotics and 25 per cent. are used in narcotic preparations. No narcotics are permitted to be brought in for the manufacture of what are generally known as patent medicines, according to officials of the narcotics branch of the department of pensions and national health which administers the law with the assistance of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the department of national revenue.

New Engine Type

Steel Replaces Aluminum To Increase Power Of Aeroplanes

Disclosure of a new type engine, in which steel replaced aluminum alloy in the crankcase to produce a marked increase in power, was found by How and Hughes on his recent "round-the-world" flight was made by the Wright Aeronautical Corporation.

With one of the new motors which have been on the government "secret list," on each wing, Hughes was able to obtain a total of 2,200 horse power for take-off with heavy loads. The same motor without the steel crankcase produced only 1,000 horsepower.

Though the engine weighs more, it weighs less per horsepower produced. The company explained the heavier metal permitted higher super-charging—greater combustion pressures in the cylinders.

Four hundred motors have been ordered to power the 200 high-speed bombers ordered from the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation of Burbank, Cal., by the British Air Ministry.

Early War Measures

The earliest fortifications of Armageddon have been unearthed, and archaeologists reveal that the inhabitants of the ancient city decided about 3,000 B.C., that a wall 12 feet thick wasn't protection enough—and doubled it. War apparently is the oldest as well as the costliest of arts.

Three out of every five new automobiles purchased are bought on the installment plan according to statistics.

All dogs in Saragossa, Spain, must carry number plates, according to a new law.

Inherited Wanderlust

Eighty-Year-Old Daughter Of David Livingstone Has No Home

Mrs. Livingstone Wilson, 80-year-old daughter of David Livingstone, the missionary-explorer, and only living link with the famous Scot, was entertained to lunch at the Empire Exhibition in Glasgow by the men who built the model of the Victoria Falls in the Exhibition.

When she saw the plaster statue of her father which towers above the Falls model, Mrs. Wilson, surprised and delighted, remarked on the fine likeness achieved.

Mrs. Wilson, youngest daughter of Livingstone, was born in Bechuanaland. Brought up in Scotland, she saw her father only once in her life—for three weeks. And she confesses to a childhood opinion that he was not half so nice as his brother.

Her father has bequeathed his wanderlust to Mrs. Wilson. At 80, she has no home, and travels all the time. Part of her life is taken up with lecturing to mission societies, and to them she shows the precious relics of her father which she possesses.

Most interesting of these is his diary. Even when paper and ink gave out, the diary continued. Livingstone cut off the blank edges of newspapers and sewed them together. His ink he manufactured from a weed, of which the juice was red.

Humor In Court

Magistrate In England Proved He Had Plenty Of It

"My opinion may not be worth much, but I think every magistrate should have a general knowledge of all classes of society and a sense of humor," said W. E. Hopkin, J.P., of Nottinghamshire.

"There is a story told of two magistrates who were summoned for exceeding the speed limit in a built-up area. When they arrived at the court there were no other magistrates present, so they agreed to try each other. No. 1 went on the Bench and No. 2 in the witness box. A question was asked. 'You are charged with exceeding the speed limit. Do you plead guilty or not guilty?'

'Guilty, Your Worship,' 'You will be fined five shillings.' They then changed places, and No. 2 went on to the Bench. He said to No. 1: 'You are charged with exceeding the speed limit in a built-up area. Do you plead guilty or not guilty?'

Wood-Clad Lead Pencils

Are Not Likely To Disappear For Some Considerable Time

Trees are not much worried over the idea that wood-clad lead pencils may someday have to yield pride of place to the mechanical "propel" lead pencil whose casing is made of metal or celluloid, states J. C. K., in Marketing. In a single California national park are enough trees, suitable for lead pencils, to produce 15,000,000 board feet. So, for the rest of my own lifetime, I can get wood-clad pencils. This type of pencil I prefer. Being partly Scotch, I can endure the loss of a 5-cent lead pencil with much more complacency than would be the case if I lost a fine propelling pencil—as I have several times.

Deadly Germ

London Physician Brings Photographs To America

Bringing with him what he described as the only photographs ever made of the dread streptococcus germ, Dr. Herbert Rogers, resident pathologist of the North Middlesex Hospital of London, arrived on the steamship Nova Scotia to confer with Harvard medical authorities. Dr. Rogers said he discovered the germs accidentally four months ago while examining the blood of a 30-year-old woman patient. Although the germs were known to enter the blood stream of victims, he asserted, they very seldom have been located.

Paddon and Pearce will race in front of the Hanlan Memorial this Fall at the C.N.E. The Destructive Insects

Cause Many Diseases And Also Much Loss Of Food

The casualties incurred by the attacks of insects are extensive and costly. Between 1915 and 1926 insects caused a loss of $1,375,000,000 in Canada, which is almost as much as the Dominion spent on the war and demobilization. In the United States the annual loss is $2,000,000,000. In India insects kill 1,600,000 people, great damage amounting to $75,000,000. Dr. A. S. Neave, of the Imperial Institute of Entomology, estimates that ten per cent. of all the food produced in the world is destroyed or lost through insects.

Country Well Defended

Military Experts Agree Invasion Of Czechoslovakia Would Not Be Easy

The 2,500-mile front of Czechoslovakia—teaching hostile territory all the way round except for 150 miles bordering friendly Rumania—is heavily and cleverly fortified.

Military experts believe that despite the comparatively small size of the Czechoslovakian army, any invasion across the three defensive lines built by the Czechs would be made at heavy cost.

If the border were crossed, the first defence stand would be made about 40 miles inside the border mountains in a lovely region of idyllic mountain meadows. The next stand would be about 100 miles farther inland, and the third line of defence runs still farther east, along the Vaag River in territory where the population is more purely Czech.

Although comparatively small in manpower, the Czech army is one of Europe's best-armored and equipped forces, with a splendid military tradition and a thorough training. Military experts agree that while it might be possible for Germany to overrun Czechoslovakia as it did Austria, a terrible price would have to be paid.

May Reduce Expense

Device Cuts Cost Of Operating Modern X-ray Machines

Drastic reduction in the cost of operating modern X-ray machines required for development of high direct current voltages in treatment of cancer and other diseases was demonstrated at Winnipeg by Prof. John W. Dorney of the University of Manitoba. Prof. Dorney exhibited two inexpensive machines, one of which turned out 100,000 volts and the other 40,000. The machines, which look to be nothing more than a collection of auto tubes and small transformers immersed in an oil bath, make use of vacuum tube rectifiers costing only about $1.50 each. These tubes can be replaced at any time.

Television Telephone

New Patented Device Designed To Enable Talker To See Person At Other End Of The Line

A television telephone designed to make it possible to see a person while talking to him was patented by Alexander Nicolson, of New York. The device, which the system was primarily for inter-office communication in a single building. He suggested its use also for long-range radio-television communication.

A bell-shaped horn, resembling the early types of phonograph and radio loud speakers, contains television scanning devices for both sending and receiving, as well as a radio microphone and loudspeaker.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST 14

THE RELATION OF TEMPERANCE TO CHARACTER

Golden text: Wine is a mocker, strong drink a brawler; and whosoever erreth thereby is not wise. Proverbs 20:1.

Lesson: Proverbs 4:10-23, I. Theological 4:8-9. Devotional reading: Psalm 1.

Explanations and Comments

A Fatherly Exhortation to Walk in the Ways of Righteousness, Proverbs 4:10-23. The Wise Man is speaking to his disciples. "Listen to my words," he says, "and long life shall be yours." There can be no doubt that a life of righteousness tends to prolong life, for vices will not cut it short. "I have taught them in the way of wisdom."

Urgently the Wise Man exhorts his disciples to heed wisdom's instruction: "Keep her, for she is thy life." There are strong forces which would turn one away from the path of uprightness into paths of evil. Resist all temptation to a wicked life. "Walk not in the way of evilmen; avoid it, pass not by it; turn from it, and pass on." Steer clear of all evil.

Next we have a picture of the life of the righteous whose path is criminality avoided. Their only pleasure is in doing harm, and making others as evil as themselves. "They eat the bread of wicked men, and drink the wine of violence," that is, they make their living by their deeds of violence and violence.

In contrast to the life of the wicked there is next given a picture of the life of the righteous whose path is "as the dawning light (light of dawn, R.Vm) that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

"We hear, 'He is on the shady side of fifty! No; a thousand times no! We have seen him more and more.' 'He has had his day! A thousand times No! More and more unto the perfect day.' 'He is going down hill! Nay, verily! We climb the hill. This is the truth about the procession of life: it is related to God. They go from strength to strength' (G. Campbell Morgan).

The sober, I. Theological 5:8-9. Paul is talking in this letter about the "Day of the Lord," the Second Coming of Christ. "So, then, let us not sleep, as do the rest, but let us watch and be sober." "Sleep," comments Dr. James Denney, "is certainly a strange word to describe the life of the worldly man. He probably thinks himself very wide awake, and as far as a certain circle of interests is concerned, probably is so. The children of this world, Jesus tells us, are not wise for their generation. But what a stupor fallen upon them, what a lethargy, when the day is coming, and the hour is at hand. Watch and be sober, Paul says, and you will not be ashamed before the Lord at his coming."

Watch and be sober. Compare Christ's words: "Take heed to yourselves, that ye do not overcharge with eating and drinking, and cares of this life, and then day come on you suddenly as a snare."

Wakenfulness, sobriety, and watchfulness Paul demands of the Theosophists. They are to be on their guard, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. Compare Ephesians 6:10-17.

Profits Usually Small

U.S. Government Bulletin Shows Crime Literally Does Not Pay

That "crime doesn't pay" appears to be in danger of becoming one of those sentimental platitudes which lose all meaning through repetition. This would be a pity, for, as applied to the great majority of criminally disposed individuals, it is literally and actually true. An illuminating proof of this fact is furnished by the government bulletin which discloses that last year in the United States the average robber got only $89.36 on the "job" for which he was convicted, and the average burglar, $59.19, and the average larcenist, $29.27.

Let me particularly those in their teens and twenties—gamble on sudden violent death or long terms of imprisonment for such paltry gain. —Columbus Dispatch.

The Queen Mother

Has Won Imperishable Place In Hearts Of British People

London despatches state that thousands of persons gathered along the banks of the Thames to cheer the King's mother. This was to be expected, of course, for Queen Mary has won an imperishable place for herself in the affections of the British people that wherever she goes she is the subject of popular acclaim. The whole history of the monarchy has known no finer Queen, no better wife and mother, no more charming lady.

People of the United States spend approximately $50,000,000 a day for food.

Protecting Wild Life

Writer Calls Jack Miner The Most Practical Naturalist (By Lance Conner)

Irvn Cobb, beloved American humorist and story teller, used an apt phrase when he called Jack Miner "the greatest practical naturalist on the planet." Not by theory but by the most intensive study of wild life has the Kingville naturalist acquired his nature lore.

From childhood to his present age of 78 years, the silver-haired woodsman has been a keen student of plant and animal life. Nor has this time been wasted in aimless calculation and indolent collection of statistics. His interest lies in the very practical field of providing food and shelter for such species of birds as are threatened with extermination.

Programs of wild life conservation are in the latest new. Many have been advocated by university biology experts in the past, but few were practical. It was Jack Miner who set the pace for low-cost conservation, and he continues to do so. The planned economy so characteristic of the naturalist is noted at his Kingville home and sanctuary, where the many flowers and trees can be cared for by but one man and a horse.

As Eccles J. Gott, ex-M.P. for South Essex, said on the floor of the House of Commons at Ottawa, "Jack Miner is protecting and caring for more birds than all the game warden in the Dominion of Canada."

Seven Ages Of Elephant

High Points Coincide Very Nearly With Corresponding Age In Man

A letter to the London Times says it is a curious fact that the age at which the "high points" occur in the life of Indian elephants coincides very nearly with the corresponding age in man, next to whom the elephant surely comes in order of intelligence. Burmese elephants born in captivity begin to leave their mothers and nurses at three to four years old, and are mischievous little boys and girls elephants to about fourteen (the school-leaving age), when they start to learn to work for their living. About 21 they grow up and are given a larch-key as it were; they are in their prime from 30 to 50, and then onwards old age sets in until after threescore years and ten they are generally dead. A working elephant in Burma is old at fifty, but wild ones, if not embarrassed by the possession of a good pair of tusks, often live out their allotted span, and, as with man, sometimes exceed it.

Prefer Home In China

Army Officers Recalled By Germany Feel A Bit Uneasy

Apparently German officers recalled from China by request of Japan have some doubts about their future in Naziland. There is difficulty about their recall back home. According to the insiders that will involve a certain amount of difficulty. Some of them don't want to return. They're men who have been in certain cases and, although they've been promised jobs in Germany, they feel just a bit uneasy—Brandon Sun.

POOR MAN'S GOLD

Barstow looked out the rain-plashed window.

"Oh, yes, I remember. The newspaper mentioned that—of course it was romanticized. The poor boy went away, worked his way through college, looked for gold, found it, came back to Seattle, and accidentally met the girl he had loved for years."

"Only it wasn't accidental," supplied Hammond. "A friend took me there—Timmy Moon, he's an aviator. Not working at it just now, I understand; something wrong with his plane. But no matter; we'd met up and of course—you know, home for the first time after all those years—I asked him whatever became of Kay Joyce. There was a moment's pause. Hammond rubbed at his hot face. Then he looked up, a queer burning light in his dark eyes. "You know, Barstow, it was the funniest feeling to ride up to that old house in an automobile and get out and walk right through the gate."

"Where you had played as children."

"Played nothing; that old granite block of a father never would let me inside the yard. You couldn't blame the kid for snorting me—with him telling her not to associate with ragtags."

"I suppose not," said the attorney, staring at his law books.

"It was funny in a way. Timmy had called up the house, but he hadn't said whom he was bringing out. Kay didn't recognize me for a minute; I'd have known her anywhere."

"Naturally."

"Well, for awhile I wished I hadn't come. You see, I'd always dreamed of that house as the grandest place in the world—one of those old-time building-block places, with turrets and a slate roof."

"I know the kind."

"And Kay was a bit distant at first; you know, hard to pick up the thread after all these years. Then, just for fun, Timmy pretended to have forgotten his handkerchief. So he reached for mine. I had a moosehide bag full of nuggets in that pocket."

"You'd fixed it up that way."

"I Suppose Not," Said the Attorney

"Of course. So, out came the nuggets with the handkerchief and spilled all over the floor. You should have seen us!" Again he rubbed feverishly at his face. "Everybody down on the floor, helping pick up those nuggets."

Barstow eyed him, a gentle appraisal.

"That helped considerably, didn't it, Jack?"

"Oh, yes. Naturally, it led to ques-

"Five. That's right. What'd you two take up those for?" he asked. "That's 400 acres of land that isn't even near water."

"Have you got the government receipt for the lease?" insisted Hammond.

Barstow tossed it over. The prospector looked at it and handed it back.

"If Joe and I make anything out of this find—that's probably where we'll do it."

"I thought the stuff was all in the Loon creek sands."

"That's an old country," answered Hammond. Loon creek has wandered all over the map. We've got a young bird-rock—not over a couple of hundred years old. If we get into big money, we've got to find the old bed of the Big Moose—the real one where nuggets were piled up for a thousand years or more."

Barstow nodded.

"Well, you've got the country checked out; no reason why you shouldn't have luck. Going out into the morning?"

Hammond laughed.

"Who isn't?"

Business was over. They talked for awhile, of the developing rush into the new gold regions, the weird hopes and dreams which every fortune-seeker would carry into the North, few of which would be realized. At last Hammond rose to leave.

Beat The Depression

Unemployed Man Builds Up Business

On a small capital

Five years ago unemployed Hans Broe invested his last $50 in a boat garage on the banks of the Red River in the heart of Winnipeg. Today he employs six men and his investment has grown to 600 feet of docks, almost 100 boats and two machine shops.

Born 46 years ago on a remote Danish island in the North Sea, Broe first came to Winnipeg in 1919. In 1933, jobless and almost penniless, he conceived the idea of a boat livery to beach resorts. "The river water is as clean as lake water, perhaps cleaner," he thought. Since then his business has grown steadily. On his own property he has filled in 3,000 yards of earth.

"It hasn't been easy, but it has been good," said Broe. "I sleep on the job, and don't get as much out of it as the men do." He visions the day when slow-plying houseboats and pleasure-craft will sail the river and his banks will be banded with driveways and dotted with swimming pools, bathhouses and havens of recreation for tired city folk.

Fishing In The Upper Air

Scientists Look Above The Earth For Rust Spores

United States agriculture department scientists are going fishing in the upper air for rare, living spores which they hope will throw new light on control of destructive plant diseases, including black stem rust of grain. They are going far above the earth with a "sky hook," resembling an instrument once used by Col. N. Charles Lindbergh for studying the upper air. In this, they will attempt to collect specimens of minute plant parasites that float in air currents at great heights.

Seeds Were Still Alive

Taken From Egyptian Tomb Yield Green Peas In Blue Pots

Green peas in dark blue pots were exhibited in England at a Harrow Weald (Middlesex) horticultural show. They had been grown from seed which had been lying dormant for 4,000 years in Tutankhamen's tomb, discovered a few years ago.

A. Aldridge explained that one of the excavators handed some of the seed to a gardener. To the gardener's amazement, the seed grew.

A few of the pods were given to Mr. Aldridge's son, who began growing the peas on a large scale.

Fishery Production

Manitoba Leads Western Provinces

In Value Of Output

Production of Ontario fisheries in 1937 had a market value of $3,615,666 and a value at the point of landing of $3,140,384 compared with values of $3,209,422 and $2,713,722 respectively for 1936, according to the annual report issued by the bureau of statistics.

Saskatchewan and Alberta and the Yukon Territory had a combined market value in 1937 of $2,745,032 respectively for 1936, according to the annual report issued by the bureau of statistics.

Manitoba is the leading province with respect to value of fisheries production, with a total of $1,796,012. Saskatchewan is second with $527,199, Alberta third, with $433,334, and the Yukon Territory last with $8,467.

Each of the three provinces shows an increase in value as compared with 1936 while for the Yukon Territory a decrease is recorded.

Taking the provinces individually, whitefish is first in Saskatchewan and Alberta while Manitoba displayed pickerel.

Safe Driving

U.S. Motorists Stepping On The Brakes

Motorists in the United States are beginning to step on the brakes in time to save lives.

The United States National Safety Council reported that traffic fatalities for the first six months of 1938 were fewer by 22 per cent, than during the same period last year.

By heeding the plea to drive more carefully, motorists saved 3,670 lives during the first half of 1938, the council said.

The steady decline in fatalities was registered despite a two per cent increase in highway traffic during the first five months. If the percentage of decline continues for the balance of 1938, the council said, the year's traffic toll would be the lowest since 1928 and would represent a saving of 8,700 lives in comparison with 1937.

June was the eighth consecutive month to register a decline. The death toll for the month was 2,270, or 24 per cent under that of June, 1937.

Mercury Deposits

Located In B.C., May Be Used By Canada For Defence Purposes

Extensive new mercury deposits are reported to have been uncovered at Moha, near Lillooet, B.C.

The property is owned locally by a group of eight men and specimens assayed by the provincial assayer at Victoria are said to have run from $40 to $180 a ton.

A report has been sent to the Department of Defence, Ottawa, ownership they wish any extensive production to be controlled by the Dominion for defence purposes.

A box of the ore has been sent to the Dominion Mines Department.

The strike is 15 miles north of an operation on Mud Creek in the Bridge river valley, which has been under development for more than a year by Montreal and Vancouver interests.

The new body, believed to be in the same zone, has lower grade values but has tonnage possibilities.

Honor In Arms

Duke Of Wellington Kest His Word To French Marshal

The following story is taken from a letter to the London Times:

According to Sir William Fraser's "Words on Wellington," the Great Duke must have been one of the last exponents of "honor in arms": "Before the battle of Orthez the bridge over the Gave de Pau had been passed by the French army. The Duke sent a note to Marshal Soult saying that a battle would, of course, take place on the following day; but that, as it was desirable in the interest of the inhabitants of Orthez not to destroy the bridge, he promised that, if Marshal Soult would abstain from blowing it up, no soldier of the British army should cross it. Soult trusted him, and the bridge is to this day intact."

The Kitchener Record claims that half the trouble in the world can be attributed to curiosity. That may be so, but more than half the progress in the world is attributable to that very same quality.

Man—Do you know, honey, if I had to do it all over again, who I'd marry?

Wife—No, who?

Man—You.

Wife—Oh, no, you wouldn't.

TRY IT TOMORROW

Goderich Took Its Loss

Paid Off Railway Debt In Full For Which It Received No Benefit

The town of Goderich is to be congratulated for getting rid of its own railway debt. It has shown fortitude and persistence in meeting an obligation which, events showed, was ill advised. Thirty years ago, bonds were issued for $150,000 to subsidize the Ontario West Shore Railway. The road was never completed, but Goderich lived up to its end of the contract and has just paid off the last of the debt. Interest amounted to $225,000, so the town is out of pocket $375,000 for something of no value to it, unless the experience is counted an asset.

Goderich, he it is noted, did not shrink its responsibility through either good times or bad. It has paid up, wiped out the debt with clean hands, a clear conscience, and unqualified credit. Probably the good people of the community never thought of beating the creditors, although they were beaten by the promoters of the railway. In any event, they have retained a sound reputation and set an example in honesty for other municipalities.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

Plans Adventure

Will Sail From England In Forty-Foot Sloop On Trip To Canada

Two years of adventure lay ahead of Rev. John Antle, retired administrator of the Church of England's Columbia Coast Mission when he left Victoria for England with plans to return in a 40-foot sloop.

Mr. Antle, honorary sea captain of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, said he expected to set out from England in the little yacht Firststep before the end of August. First stop on his leisurely return to Victoria was to be Newfoundland.

After spending several months in that colony, he planned an extended cruise around the West Indies before passing through the Panama Canal and returning to Victoria two years from now.

Once before, the elderly clergyman voyaged from England to Victoria in a small boat. That was in 1933 when he brought the motorship John Antle to Victoria for use in his mission work.

An Unusual Plea

Maid Admitted Partial Guilt For Stealing From Employer

"Partly guilty" was the unusual plea entered by May Anna Alexander, a New York Negro housemaid accused by her employer of stealing 80 pieces of silverware, linen and some jewelry.

Detectives said they found 47 pieces of the stolen silverware and some linen in the maid's home.

"I didn't take the rest," the defendant said, explaining her plea.

ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH
Ninth Sunday after Trinity: Holy Communion will be administered at 11 a.m.

Bishop Grady, in his book "The Church Victorious," makes the following challenge to Christians:

"The sanities of the world are in the church's keeping at a time when science, falsely so-called, is assisting the criminal lunatics of contemporary Europe to turn the world into something between a lunatic asylum and a grave. The realization of this titanic conflict that is going on between the servants of death and the ministers of life should invest with an utterly new solemnity the meaning of our christian witness in the world."

"No longer can we be persuaded that we of the church are anemic exponents of the tame proprieties, the pale respectabilities. We are nothing less than the keepers of the gates of life against a vast and insane conspiracy of death."

You are cordially welcome to St. Alban's church. Your fellowship and co-operation are earnestly desired.

THE UNITED CHURCH
The congregation are asked to note that for the next two Sundays the regular morning service will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Arrol, of Blairmore.

TURNER VALLEY PRORATION

BENEFITS OIL CONSUMERS
Proration regulation in the Turner Valley oil fields is a benefit to consumers apart from its desirability in the interest of sharing the market.

It is a physical fact that if wells are run wide open, it is not possible to make as large a recovery of oil as if they were held down. Naturally the consumer is interested in having a continuous supply of oil at low prices.

If, for instance, the wells in Turner Valley were to run wide open, the temperature in the oil-bearing rocks would rapidly decline. It is another geological fact that there is a lot of wax in Turner Valley oil. In the process of cooling it would congeal and block the tiny rock pores through which the oil oozes to the foot of the well.

Once this happened, great quantities of oil would be placed forever beyond recovery. Heavy economical losses would follow for both producers and consumers. [12]
